ACTRESS Isabel Lucas is selling her near new designer "green home", 15km north of Cairns International Airport.

The four-bedroom, three-bathroom house sits on almost 2.428ha of native forest and has views over the mountains and out to the Coral Sea.

Designed for Queensland, to the highest environmental standards, the home has a 100 per cent waste-water recycling system that automatically irrigates the native gardens.

And it includes a state-of-the-art solar power system that sells excess power back to the electricity company.

There is also bamboo flooring, and local marble in the kitchens and bathrooms.

The indoor living spaces open to big indoor/outdoor tiled living area leading to verandahs and a spa.

On the upper level is the main bedroom with its own verandah, dressing room, and ensuite with shower/spa.
